

ROLE OF THE "CAUCUSING GROUPS" IN THE POLITICAL PROCESSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS : A STUDY OF THE GROUP OF 77

Dissertation submitted to the Jawaharlal Nehru University in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the award of the Degree of
MASTER OF PHILOSOPHY

RAKESH AGRAWAL

CENTRE FOR INTERNATIONAL POLITICS
ORGANIZATION AND DISARMAMENT
SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
JAWAHARLAL NEHRU UNIVERSITY
NEW DELHI-110067, INDIA

1990

CONTENTS

	Page
PREFACE
CHAPTER I Decision Making in the United Nations and Its Specialized Agencies: An Overview	1-15
CHAPTER II Caucusing Groups in the United Nations and Its Specialized Agencies	16-32
CHAPTER III The Group of 77 : Evolution, Structure and Organization	33-69
CHAPTER IV The Declaration of a NIEO : A Case Study of the Exercise of the Unity of the Group of 77	70-86
CHAPTER V The Commodity Negotiations: An Exercise of Conciliation of Interests by the Group of 77	87-117
CHAPTER VI Conclusions	118-127
SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY	128-140